To 54 Countries
Remember Wilson's Trips
The "Positron" Arrives
Europe's Plan for U.

President Roosevelt asks fifty-four countries to keep their armies at home, and preserve peace on which depend "happiness, prosperity, the very lives of the men, women and children who inhabit the whole world."

The President puts the airplane first among attacking weapons that "fixed fortifications" can no longer resist, and expects all nations "wholly to eliminate from possession and use weapons which make possible successful attack."

Most important is the President's suggestion that "all the nations enter into a solemn, definite pact of non-aggression."

This message, in plain English, no mysterious "code," was sent broadcast to the nations of the world, including Soviet Russia.

And that, according to Senator Borah, is an official recognition of Russia. If so, it puts an end to a ridiculous situation, bad for business. BALONEY!

London, much pleased, hears that President Roosevelt will go to England to attend the economic parley "making a record crossing on the United States cruiser Indianapolis."

The President announces that he has "no present intention" of attending the conference. Perhaps he remembers what happened after President Wilson made such a trip, visiting in families at Buckingham Palace, and getting his portrait substituted for Garibaldi's in many Italian homes.

That Buckingham lodging and Garibaldi substitution cost this country many billions of dollars, to say nothing of the depression.

There was recently a conference in Washington concerning billions that Europe owes us. Mussolini did not come; the President of France did not come; the King of England did not come. They sent somebody, although they owe us, is there any particular reason why President Roosevelt should go? He has work to do here, and is employed by the people to do it here.

On the Mayflower, while Calvin Coolidge was President, somebody brought up George Harvey's suggestion that the United States should send delegates to London to discuss the debts. President Coolidge quietly remarked:

"They hired the money here, didn't they? Why can't they discuss it here?"

That New England gentleman would not have made any "record trip" to Europe on a cruiser, or anything else, while President.

Science concentrates on its newest pet, the "positron," thus named because it is a free, "positive electron," one of the inconceivably small things of which light, life, electricity and all matter are formed. When you meet a "positron" it goes right through you and comes out.

The study of the "positron" may tell more about Dr. Millikan's "cosmic rays," and enlighten us also on the "galactic rays" that come from somewhere out in the Milky Way. A strange, brilliant static in your radio may mean galactic messengers, possessing a 146-meter wave, a frequency of twenty million cycles a second.

Where we mortals stand, some things, like suns in space that are one million million times as big as this earth, and other things like the atom, of which you could have a million in the corner of your eye without knowing it, are too big or too small. However, Providence knows what is best for us.

The present hope of Europe, next to skipping the debts, lies in a proposed agreement by this, some times silly nation, to suspend our tariff protection to aid foreign workers and manufacturers at the expense of our own. If Czechoslovakia, making shoes under conditions with which we cannot compete, could drive the remaining workers out of American shoe factories; if England could take over all our textile industries, Japan our rubber goods and electric bulb business, that would make foreigners, temporarily, contented.

It would not, however, do much to help the twelve to fifteen million idle men now walking the streets of the United States.

Auburn, New York, tells women who teach in public schools that if they marry during the school year their contracts will be cancelled. Married teachers with husbands "genuinely employed" are asked to resign.

Somebody should take that ruling to the Supreme Court. The country needs as many intelligent children as possible and forbidding women teachers to marry is to interfere with the supply of intelligent children.

St. Francis Goodenough, wise Englishman, predicts that when prosperity comes back, it will rise to a height "never before enjoyed by the human race."

Mrs. Leidig's Opening To be Next Saturday

Next Saturday, May 27, the curtains will roll back and the Leidig new open air market will be officially opened to the public. And a credit to Carmel it is, situated so that it catches the eye of the stranger when he first comes into the city.

Mrs. Leidig in speaking of her opening, was very enthusiastic. She said, "We are going to have five contests Saturday at which we will give away five baskets of food." She also plans these contests for each succeeding Saturday.

The new Leidig store will follow the same policy as in the past and will be open every night and Sunday, with shelf-stocked goods. And even though a fair-minded person would not mind paying extra for this service, there is no additional charge and what sells for five cents Saturday sells for five cents Sunday.

Leidig's is the pioneer independent store, belonging to no chain nor system of any kind, and is entirely owned by Mrs. Leidig herself.

A new feature of the store will be the Leidig meat market, which will be in charge of Otto Ily, formerly with Las Tiendas das in Monterey. Mrs. Leidig has adopted as her slogan, "Better meats at lower prices."

Carmel grows! Her summer visitors may have all the conveniences of the city, combined with the loveliness of nature.

POINT LOBOS CHOSEN AS PICTURE SETTING

Construction of sets for the moving picture "Paddy the Next Best Thing" which will star Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter, is under way on Point Lobos. A most real looking lighthouse stands on the point, grey from storms, while scattered about over the meadow are what at first glance are little thatched huts, which prove to be but two walls joined on closer inspection.

The moving picture company is expected to arrive about the first of June, according to W. Fitzgerald, business manager of the Fox Film company.

Characters have already been obtained locally for small parts, so that only the principals will be brought from Hollywood. Work on all the sets has been done by local labor.

BE CAREFUL OF BLACK

WIDOW POISON SPIDER

Have you a little rattlesnake in your home? Or perhaps a black widow spider?

Don't take any chances on a black spider you may see about. Kill it first then look for the identification of a red hour-glass mark underneath. And here's another tip: When you find one you will find two.

It would be well for you to find out at once what to do in case of being bitten or having any of your family bitten by this venomous spider, since the bite is very poisonous sometimes resulting in death.

More are being found and reported this year than ever before. Last year, they had made their way into the northern part of the state as far as Redding, and are steadily creeping onward.

One Carmel matron reports that when she brought her mop in from the porch, she found on it a black spider, and on investigation found another near where the mop had been hanging.

Watch carefully in all places where spiders of any kind might lurk. Caution the children to be careful. Better be safe than bitten.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

QUARTERLY REPORT OUT

According to a report received from the Executive Board of the Unemployed Relief Council, the total amount of food supplied during the last quarter was 107,915 pounds.

The number of grocery orders given out was 8,367. Meals served, 5,958. Tiers of wood delivered, 808, shoes repaired 456 pairs, and hair cuts 451.

A number of pieces of wearing apparel were distributed, also furniture, bedding and utensils.

R. H. Durfee was able to be out Wednesday for the first time in about two weeks, following an attack of heart trouble. His many friends are glad to see him improving.

Del Monte Kennel Club Show June 4

Just as our leading social lights busy themselves rushing from one benefit to another for the sakes of their proletarian brothers, so will the aristocrats of dogdom parade their best manners and fur coats for the benefit of their less fortunate brothers, the mutts that find their way into the humane society.

June fourth is the date set for this dog benefit which is being staged by the Del Monte Kennel club. The bench committee includes Mrs. Sidney Fish, Mrs. C. Halstead Yates and Adolph Hanke.

Among those who will show their canine aristocrats are Mrs. Victor McLaglen, Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter of Pasadena, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hunter, Dr. Ray Brownell and Eric Tyrell Martin.

BOY SCOUTS ENTERTAIN

FATHERS FRIDAY NIGHT

WITH DEMONSTRATIONS

Demonstrations in knot tying, first aid, signaling and fire building provided the entertainment for the fathers of the boy scouts at the father and sons' night held at the scout house last Friday evening.

The purpose of the occasion was to make the fathers acquainted with each other as well as with the scouts and the work they are doing, and to meet the committee members, who told the fathers of the plans for the summer.

Teams were selected to compete in the scout activities at the Court of Honor, which is to be held Friday night at Asilomar, in which troops from the entire Peninsula will take part.

H. S. Crossman, chairman of the troop committee outlined the plans for the summer. These include a two weeks trip into the Santa Barbara National Forest. Arrangements were also discussed for the use of a local swimming pool at least once a week for each scout.

Ice cream, cup cakes and coffee were served by the boys, and fathers and sons both voted the evening a great success.

BURTON WILLIAMS OF

CARMEL PASSES AWAY

Burton Williams, well known for many years in Carmel, passed away in his sleep Saturday evening, May 20th.

Williams leaves a widow, Mrs. H. Helen Williams, and a sister, Mrs. Susan Porter. He was fifty-two years old, and had been an invalid for some time.

Funeral services were conducted by the Freeman Mortuary, and were private. Cremation followed at Santa Cruz.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. MacDonald of Burlingame recently spent several days of their honeymoon in Carmel stopping at Hotel La Ribera.

Carmel Players Score Another Big Success

Pretty girls and villainous villains composed the cast of the show put on by Carmel's Little Theatre last week, when they played "Broadway" to a capacity house.

Directed by Kit Cooke and Frank Sheridan, "Broadway" had the snap and tang of a real Broadway production. There was lots of action, and suspense, and the play was crowded with thrills, not a few of them provided by the pretty girls in the play.

Lucian Jones' characterization was voted perfect by those who attended, while Jack Gribner played the type of criminal which seems to have developed recently, with great conviction.

"Tiny" Pearson played the feminine lead, and just about ran away with the show. In it, she was a pretty little dancer, who just couldn't seem to use her head for the purpose it was intended for.

Sam Ethridge, Frank Murphy and Milton Latham were convincing bootleggers. By Ford represented the arm of the law with grim assurance.

Helen Wilson, Ruth Austin, the three youngest B.P.D.s, (Beautiful Pinkham Daughters), Patty Johnson and Holly Smith completed the feminine roles.

Others to whom credit is due for the success of the show are Rhoda Johnson, for costumes, Ruby Fraley, properties; William Nye, electrician; John Stanley, stage manager; Ralph Todd, business manager; Marian Pinkham, publicity; and Marjorie Smith, Stella Stafford Mather and Major Chester Shephard in charge of seating and tickets.

JACK DALTON AND WIFE ENTERTAIN

Testifying to the esteem in which they are held by their hosts of friends, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dalton came in droves to their party last evening, cars being parked for blocks around their house.

Jack furnished the house and the music and all joined in making entertainment and keeping things lively. There were dancing, singing and speech-making, and a keg of beer and delicious sandwiches disappeared quickly.

Even Tarzan, the Daltons' pedigree colt, joined and did some of his tricks for the guests and received much applause.

The Daltons' parties are an institution and are always worth going to.

With the exception of Postmaster W. L. Overstreet and Assistant Postmaster John Nye, the entire post office staff have taken their annual vacations. Both Mr. Overstreet and Mr. Nye will be away for part of next month.

Michel Penha has arrived to take up his summer's work.

ELLEN PEARL McGRURY HAS MOTHER GOOSE PARTY

The spirit of Mother Goose dominated the afternoon party given by Ellen Pearl McGrury last Sunday, when the little guests amused themselves in acting out in pantomime Mother Goose rhymes.

There was a prize for the child who guessed the most of the acts correctly, and it went to Emma Wishart. Refreshments which included all the goodies ever associated in the minds of children with parties were served, and such a good time was had by the youngsters that they played until dusk.

The guests were Emma Ann and Margaret Wishart, Elizabeth Watson, Lillian and Vivian Ohm, Irene Stevenson, Helen Wetzel, Vincent, Ada and Billy-Patricia Torres, Cecelia, Freddy and Amelia Moller, Adeline Guth and Jimmy Gilson.

GARDEN PARTY TO BE

HELD AT LA QUERIDA

Friday, June 2nd, is the date set by the members of St. Anne's Guild of the Episcopal church for their garden party at "La Querida," Ninth and San Antonio.

MRS. F. W. TEN WINKEL

Her guests were Mrs. Ann Neale Mayer and Mrs. Adam Darling with Mrs. Thomas Huntington, Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. Bonte of San Francisco who have taken the Chickering cottage on Monte Verde for the summer months.

Among those who went to San Francisco to attend the services at Grace Cathedral Tuesday when Dr. Noel Porter, former archdeacon of the diocese of California, was made bishop, were Mrs. Grace D. Rodgers, Mrs. Vera Peck Mills, Mrs. William O'Donnell, Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, Miss Glenna Peck and Bill Mills.

Frances Ilene Glascock Bride Robt. Carmany

In an impressive ceremony performed by the Reverend Ernest Bradley at St. John's chapel in Del Monte Sunday afternoon May 21st at four o'clock, Frances Ilene Glascock of Carmel became the bride of Robert Muir Carmany of San Francisco.

The bride who was dressed in a beautiful gown of yellow organza, and carried yellow roses, had as maid of honor her sister Mary Elizabeth Glascock, who wore a gown of roman striped organza, and carried talisman roses. Little Jane Glascock was the flower girl. She wore yellow and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Gordon Cole of San Francisco, cousin of the groom, was best man. Sam Ethridge sang Carl Bohm's Still Wie Die Nacht.

After the ceremony tea was served at the Glascock home to relatives and close friends of the young couple, who departed from there for their honeymoon.

The Carmanys plan to make their home in Nevada for a few years, and hope after then to return to the San Francisco peninsula.

Mrs. Emily Gray of San Francisco, who lived in Carmel four or five years ago, will return here on May 30th for a stay of six months. She has leased the Riegg cottage on N. Lincoln street.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Rockford, and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Sullivan of Berkeley were in Carmel over the week-end in "Friar Luck."

HENRY COWELL TO PLAY

RECORDS OF SONGS OF

AUSTRALIAN BUSHMEN

Music of the Australian Bushmen will be the theme of Henry Cowell's discussion at the Denny-Watrous gallery Saturday night, illustrated with records made from the originals which are in the University of Adelaide Museum in Australia.

Songs of the different tribes will be played, including rain making invocations, a song of dead men and several songs to the spirits of dead animals. There will be one to the spirit of a wild dog, one to a carpet snake, to a white tailed rat, to a ring necked parrot and others.

Also there will be a series of songs by a native of Tahiti, played on a banjo-like instrument of native make. The singer of these songs was trained in the native manner of singing, and they are most unusual.

A record of the original singing of the New Zealand Maoris before they were influenced by the missionaries will be played, followed by one showing the influence of hymn singing on their songs, providing a most interesting contrast.

Mr. Cowell has made all of his records from originals of which there is only one of each. They are very rare, and the sort which one is usually privileged to hear only in a large metropolitan center. He received permission to make these duplicates after inventing a device to do so, and is the only one who has copies of them.

Gold Output Increased
The Department of Commerce reported recently that California was still the country's biggest gold producer, with a production in 1932 valued at $11,649,000, as compared with $10,814,562 in 1931, and with the Nation's output last year of $17,026,000.

Kern County Hay Improved
Reports reaching Bakersfield from the Federal hay grader at Los Angeles indicated that quality of hay from Kern county was improved one full grade by night baling. M. A. Lindsay, county farm adviser, stated that the improvement was due rather to baling when dew was on the hay or the moisture content just right.

Cotton Fields Replanted
Several cotton fields in various parts of Tulare county have been replanted as a result of frosts. It is estimated that most of the early planting, representing about 10 per cent of the crop, had to be replanted. Vegetables and small fruits were checked somewhat by the continued cool weather.

New Courthouse Plans

Plans for the new $80,000 addition to the Tulare county courthouse, drawn by Architect Kump of Fresno, were submitted to the Board of Supervisors recently. Early construction of the unit is favored by the Supervisors, so that rentals now being paid by the county for housing several offices may be eliminated.

Health Department Reports

In a recent report released by the State Department of Public Health it was noted that more persons had chickenpox in the State last year than any other communicable disease. The report recorded 24,613 cases during the year, with influenza cases numbering 17,131, and whooping cough cases reported numbering 14,043.

Growers Reduce Acreage

Growers in the Whittier district are planting some tomatoes but there will be less acreage than during the past year and former seasons. The reduction will easily reach 50 per cent and possibly 75 per cent, according to estimates. Young citrus groves where tomatoes have been used as an intercrop are in many cases being left bare this season, although some are planted to corn. Most of the few truck gardens in the district are in crop as usual, although there is a noticeable reduction in the amount of land planted. This reduction covers lima beans, string beans, and cabbage mainly. Practically no new acreage has been set to oranges this year, though some small tracts have been put out to lemons. As far as can be learned, no groves are to be pulled out, the walnut acreage having been greatly reduced in the district during the past three years.

Concrete Teepee For Home

Modeled after the teepees of the Blackfoot Indians, a large cement teepee is being erected near Escondido for A. L. Houghton, a retired capitalist, who expects to make it his future residence. The structure is being constructed of cement and metal lathing. It will be 50 feet high and 60 feet in diameter, and when completed there will be sixty windows in its three stories. Standing on a high point, the teepee overlooks all of the San Pasqual Valley.

Undeveloped Land Cultivated

Considerable lemon acreage is being set out in the Alto Loma section this spring on lands that have, for the most part, been undeveloped heretofore. Very few oranges are being planted in the district. Several large tracts that are usually set to tomatoes, peppers, cauliflower, cabbage, etc., are either being left fallow or are being reduced in size.

Tax Moratorium Explained

A delay of sixty days in the publication of delinquent tax lists in California counties is provided in the recent tax moratorium emergency act. Attorney General U. S. Webb stated recently in an opinion given to Thomas Whelan, District Attorney of San Diego. The opinion stated the moratorium legislation should be construed to include all tax processes of counties.

Late Freeze Hits District

According to John P. Coy, horticultural commissioner for San Bernardino county, the full damage to Rome Beauties and other later blooming varieties as well as delicious crops from the late freeze the middle of April cannot be determined for a short time yet. Much of the early blossoming deciduous fruit was almost completely lost in the Oak Glen district, and at Yucca approximately 20 per cent of the peaches and plums were damaged. The loss to cherries may be as high as 50 per cent, it was reported.

Increased Acreage Predicted

During a recent meeting of the agricultural committee of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce J. B. Carter of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation expressed the belief that cotton acreage in the San Joaquin Valley would be increased 60 per cent this year over last, and he estimated that the total acreage this year would be 135,000, of which 27,000 would be in Fresno county, exceeded only by Kern county with 53,000 acres. The Madera county acreage was estimated at 23,000, and the acreage for Merced and Kings counties were 21,000. It was predicted that Valley growers would make good returns on their production.

School Groups "Must Battle"

The annual banquet of the Association of High School Principals held in San Jose recently were honored with the presence of Dr. Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California, who made an appeal to the educators of California to stand together and fight their enemies more vigorously than they fight amongst themselves if they would overcome the massed forces of reaction. "Elementary schools, high schools, junior colleges, the teachers' colleges and the University of California," said the president, "are all bowing low to the whirlwind of the wrath of the taxpayer, who has, it must be admitted, been exploited beyond all endurance, though not to any considerable degree by the institutions we represent. By and large we have given him or the society of which he is a part, full value for every dollar expended. We have, all of us, a common and tremendously important purpose, to educate the youth of America; we should work together rather than at cross purposes."

State Election To Be Held

The State Legislature has authorized a special State economy election to be held on June 27, at which time important proposals will be voted on by the people. Outstanding among the propositions being submitted to the people by the Legislature will be the election of twenty-two delegates to a constitutional convention to ratify or turn down the repeal of the 18th amendment; the amendment proposing repeal of the existing dual tax system; the measure seeking an expression of the people on the issue of legalizing pari mutuel betting on horse racing; a $20,000,000 bond issue for unemployment relief; authorizing a $55,000,000 bond issue to refinance irrigation districts; the bonds to be issued on a self-supporting basis; Exempting from taxation all private elementary and high schools operated on a non-profit basis; Permitting reassessment of southern California property destroyed by the recent earthquake; Extending home rule to non-charter counties by permitting supervisors of these counties to fix county salaries; Making all laws passed by the legislature effective 90 days after May 22.

Money For Prune Growers

A recent announcement by officials of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association stated that a further payment of $300,000 on the 1932 prune crop would be made to growers' members, with checks to be mailed simultaneously to all growers before June 1. The Association stated that the further payment which resulted from the present distribution, would bring from a quarter to half a cent per pound on good average deliveries and more on very large size prunes.

"TODAY WE LIVE" TO BE SEEN AT CARMEL SHOW

By J. A. Kunstman

"Toss" of men or women have brought success to many a talking and silent picture. Who will forget Douglas Fairbanks and the "Three Musketeers"? Memory of Gilbert, Dane and O'Brien in "The Big Parade" will always remain fresh in the minds of film-goers. The trio of men in "Beau Geste" is unforgettable. The same is true of the three girls in "The Greeks Had a Name for It." The latest trio to pop up in pictures comprises Gary Cooper, Robert Young and Franchot Tone who are seen with Joan Crawford in "Today We Live" which opens at the Carmel Theatre Sunday. It's a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture directed by Howard Hawks from an original story by William Faulkner author of "Lights in August" and "Sanctuary."

Gary and Young are seen as Miss Crawford's lovers, with Tone playing the part of her brother. All three play a part in the World War, Cooper as an American aviator, Young and Tone in the op-British navy. Miss Crawford comes to love Cooper and then is told that he is dead. His unexpected return after the heroine has given herself to another man provides the nucleus of the romance "behind the lines."

"Today We Live" is the first war picture romance in which Joan Crawford has been seen on the screen. Cooper, on the other hand, has played innumerable soldiers, his last war role being in "A Farewell to Arms." Others in the cast of "Today We Live" include Roscoe Karns, Louise Closser Hale, Rollo Lloyd and Hilda Vaughn.

"Today We Live" plays only Sunday and Monday with a special matinee on Sunday, starting at 2 o'clock.

LIBRARY NEWS NOTES

In spite of being forced to curtail our book-buying propensities the collection offered to our readers this month is surprisingly generous and interesting. This is partly due to the County Library, which has sent us a number of new books recently. There is a marked decrease in fiction, however for it seems wiser to invest our limited funds in books of more permanent value than the average novel. There was abundant evidence at the recent meeting of the California Library Association that other libraries were feeling this same necessity. Both large and small libraries have long used what they call Pay Collections for which they charged five or ten cents a week, but for the most part these were composed of duplicates of the more popular books. Now, however, the small libraries are using this method of buying their fiction entirely. At the more general rate of 10c a week the average novel pays for itself in fifteen or twenty circulations. The book is then put on the free shelves and the money used to buy a new book. Pacific Grove and Monterey have long followed this practice. For the past few weeks we have offered a limited number of duplicates of the books most in demand, fiction for 5c a week, non-fiction for 10c. Many have been glad to get them, but we do not want to increase such purchases unless our patrons want them. The turnover of such books depends upon the good will of the borrowers. Therefore we urge all those interested in the library to express their views.

JUNIOR TRAFFIC POLICE

HAVE DONE GOOD WORK

Good work has been done this year by the junior traffic squad of Sunset school, and undoubtedly many accidents have been avoided through their vigilance.

The boys work on a merit system, each one receiving a certain number of merits for his services. Duties of the squad include the care of the school flag, ringing the bell and escorting other children across the street.

Three meetings have been held so far this semester, and at each meeting the captain awards those having the highest number of merits two passes to the Carmel theatre.

The following is a list of the boys who have served on the squad the last season:

Bob Halls, John Castro, James Martin, Eugene LaRhier, John Sheridan, Jack Horner, Freeman Tilden, Thaddeus Holland, Roy Jimenez, Hal Stone, Harold Johnson, Louis Holtzhauser, George Neikirk, Bob Rand, Billy Froli, Johnathan Hatley, Boice Richardson, Markham Johnston, John Stone, Marx Hagemeyer, Tommy Phillips, Jimmy Rand, Paul Nye, Julian Graham, Dick Tevis, Walter Holm, Freer Gottfried, Teddy Marble, Maurice Folland, Jess Owen, Albert Wilcox, Homer Levinson, Tom Brown, Billy Welsh, Clayton Askew, Arthur Parrott, Billy Jenkins, Pat Crichton, Hugh Smith Jack Pelton, Bob Farley, Paul Warrington, Edward Ballam, George Wishart, Billy Wheeler, Neale Anderson, Lee Van Atta, with the following substitutes:

Adrian Harbolt, Martin Artilian George DeAmaral, John Plank, Meo Miyamoto, Earl Dawson, Fred McIndoe, Alan McConnell.

Boys who received passes to the theatre were:

Adrian Harbolt, Lawrence Leidig, Billy Farley, Meo Miyamoto, Enery Nielsen and Joe McElow.

VISITORS WELCOME AT

CARMEL RIFLE RANGE

By James Williams

The range of the Carmel Pistol club is located near the highway, and the noise of the firing frequently excites the curiosity of passersby. Occasionally some one stops, and the procedure is usually the same in each case.

After greetings, the visitor suggests that he has a pistol in his car that he would like to try out. "Haven't shot it for years, but I used to be pretty good with it once."

He is urged to try, and returns with a gun which varies from a piece of Spanish artillery of the kind obtainable by mail for $9.98, to an honest American product of ancient vintage.

The stranger exhibits his gun proudly, and steps up to the line. Here one can see the influence moving pictures have had on the American public, for nine times out of ten the stranger waves his gun around his head a la Tom Mix and Bill Hart. The gun bellows and every one scans the target eagerly but there is no hole in it.

With the tenth shot, the visitor surveys his target with a sinking heart, and finds about one hole far to one side. He departs a crushed and embittered man.

Usually this is the last we see of him, but once in a while he shows up the next Sunday with determination written on his face, and a new box of ammunition. He fires off the whole box, and departs from the range with an application for membership in his pocket. Two or three weeks later he shows up with an enviable weapon, and in six months we have a full-fledged gun bug, the world having lost what might have been a bridge fiend, golf nut or fishing enthusiast.

Galt Bell, well known Carmel director is now in Pasadena visiting Byron Folger who has also put on shows at the local theatre.

Mrs. Katherine de Pichon is staying for a few days with her twin sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Allen.

Carmel Sun Exp eyes Gets Ducked in Bay

Henry Adamson, Carmel Sun's own expert printer, burst into the limelight Monday with the following item in the Monterey Herald. Henry said he hardly got wet at all as he only went into the water up to his armpits, but one of the boys got caught under the sail and had to do a lot of splashing around to get out to air again.

Through his reputation attained as being a good person to overturn a boat, Henry has secured a part with the company which will make a picture on Pt. Lobos next week.

Henry Adamson, Oak Grove sailing enthusiast, is the man to contact if you want to have a sloop "lay way over" as it runs before the wind. Henry proved this yesterday afternoon near the breakwater and with three companions chalked up an elegant ducking to prove it all.

Adamson, owner of the 16-foot Marconi rigged sloop "Corsair" wanted to get a picture of his craft skimming along with one rail awash and most of the keel exposed. He picked Bill Madison, 22-year-old Grove resident to do the sailing while he (Adamson) sat on shore and snapped pictures.

But Madison, unfamiliar with the boat was unable to make it lay over satisfactorily and finally Adamson came aboard to give lessons. With the skipper and owner aboard the crew of the small craft was increased to four men, Fred Van Bogart, 20, Pacific Grove and Harry Damewood, 19, Pacific Grove being the other members of the crew.

Adamson made two or three runs along shore demonstrating the business of "laying her down" and was doing an extremely good job of it until a gust of wind came along and slapped the "Corsair's" sails flat on the water.

Fishing boats moored nearby were hastily manned and came to the rescue. The crew of the "Corsair" was in no great danger since the accident happened very close to shore. Adamson's passengers regret however that no one was manning the camera when the big moment came.

After bailing the boat out, the party resumed sailing—but there were no more efforts to make her "lay down."

Frank Newkirk, owner and skipper of the 19-foot sailing craft "Eagle" habitual rescuer of sailors in distress, was cheated of another chance to be a hero. He had been watching the "Corsair's" maneuvers from the deck of his own craft but was momentarily behind the old wharf when the accident happened and an unidentified fisherman hauled the somewhat moist crew of the sloop to safety.

RAE WELSH MOVES TO OFFICE ON DOLORES

Rae Welsh has moved her office from the Golden Bough to Dolores just below Ocean avenue. With her is Mrs. G. Kingeland Dixon. B. Franklin Dixon will be in charge of the office.

Mrs. Welsh has been in real estate for about three years in Carmel, being first associated with the Carmel Investment company, then with Mr. Parrott.

MRS. J. SCHOENINGER NAMED CLUB PRESIDENT

Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, who has been most active in club and civic affairs on the peninsula, has been named president of the Peninsula League of Women Voters for the coming year.

Mrs. B. H. Schulte was chosen committee director for the Carmel Valley, and Mrs. Frank Townsend for Carmel.

Tentative plans for the coming year's program were outlined at the meeting last week. The next meeting will take place with the delegates from the state convention return with their reports.

GLEN LEIDIG RESCUES WOMAN FROM WATER

Mrs. Caroline Johns had a narrow escape from death Tuesday morning, when she got out beyond her depth in the surf, and was unable to fight her way to shore.

Her husband, being unable to swim, and becoming alarmed, called the fire department.

A large crowd gathered on the shore, and Glen Leidig swam out and brought the almost exhausted woman to safety.

Mrs. Johns is the wife of the well known poet, Orrick Johns. Glen Leidig's rescue of the drowning woman is a coincidence, since his own cousin, Tooper Leidig, was rescued from the river just two weeks ago.

GIRL SCOUTS ENJOY CANYON CAMPING TRIP

A group of a dozen girl scouts under the chaperonage of Mrs. Frances Daniels made a week-end camping trip to Sky High, Mrs. Daniels ranch in the Robinson Canyon last week.

The girls left early Saturday morning, returning Sunday afternoon. Dinner was cooked out in the open, and afterwards a huge bonfire was built around which the girls gathered and sang.

Dancing skits were put on by some of the group, and all of them had a hilarious time.

BENEFIT BRIDGE TEA

ENJOYED BY THIRTY

First prize for high score at the bridge tea held last Friday by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Community church at the Russian Tea Shop went to Mrs. Ramond Cockburn, with second prize going to Mrs. William C. Watts.

The afternoon was quite a success financially, and the thirty who attended enjoyed themselves very much.

During tea, music was played by Andy Gillett.
